DEADLOCK IN PEACE PACT DENIED

Mediators Busy—"Conversation" With American Envoys is on This Afternoon

ARMS EMBARGO SAID TO BE IN FORCE AGAIN

Denied That Huerta and Family Have Fled—Capital Quiet—Expecting Rebels

NIAGARA FALLS, June 2.—The peace mediators issued a statement today formally denying that a deadlock exists among them. The mediators were busy during the morning. The American envoys remained on the American side of the border but were scheduled for a "conversation" with the mediators at 3:30 this afternoon.

Arms Embargo Again On WASHINGTON, June 2.—It was stated on good authority that a further embargo against the shipment of arms to Mexico had been ordered by the executive department. The order failed, however, to reach New York in time to prevent the sailing of the steamer Antilla with munitions of war for the Constitutionalists.

Huerta Still at Capital VERA CRUZ, June 2.—Despite every effort to confirm the reports that Huerta and his family had fled to Puerto Mexico, there appeared to be no reason today to credit them. American dispatches saying that such reports had been generally circulated there, created considerable excitement here. It can be stated beyond doubt, however, that Huerta has been seen in Mexico City at a date later than that on which he is reported to have departed. Despite these assurances the rumor continued persistently.

There need be no apprehension at home regarding reported disorders here for the last two days, as the capital is quiet and although there is apparently increased military activity there has been no untoward incidents. The people are quiet, showing no unusual anti-American spirit.

Interest seems centered in rebel activities. Various reports of the coming of Villa are current. Seemingly reliable advice says his advance guard of rebels has been seen within thirty miles of the capital. These were probably not Villa's men, but probably recruits waiting for the rebel army's coming.

CARRANZA'S HEADQUARTERS AT DURANGO—DIAZ REJECTED

DURANGO, Mexico, June 2.—It has been officially announced that there will be a transfer of Carranza's headquarters here. The Constitutionalists leaders ridicule Washington reports that Felix Diaz might become provisional president if Huerta should retire. They assert that Diaz has always been aligned against the very cause for which the rebels are fighting. They declare that he was the direct cause of the late President Madero's overthrow, and made it plain that they will never accept him as provisional president.

GOV. JOHNSON IS HEARD BY LARGE CROWD AT VENTURA

VENTURA, June 2.—The large Casino Theater was filled here last evening with 600 people to hear Governor Johnson and John M. Eshleman tell of the accomplishments of the Progressive administration in their campaign for election as governor and lieutenant governor.

Superior Court Judge Robert M. Clarke presided, introducing the two Progressive leaders, while twenty prominent residents of Ventura county were on the stage as vice presidents.

A crowd of 300 attended the afternoon meeting at Santa Paula and another audience slightly less heard Johnson and Eshleman later at Oxnard.

At Santa Paula, Nathan W. Blanchard, the largest orange grower of the county, presided. Mr. Blanchard was one of the original incorporators of the Central Pacific railroad. In his introduction he told of some of the practices which the Southern Pacific employed to retain its throttle hold upon the politics of the state. In 1910 Mr. Blanchard opposed Johnson, but is now a strong supporter.

Grim Daylight Fight of Bandit And A Bull Dog

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—A bull dog and a bandit had a terrific battle at the home of E. W. Kohlhagen at daylight today. The burglar escaped after beating the dog into insensibility. The walls and floor were splattered with blood and torn flesh, and clothing was scattered about on the floor. The family on rising found the badly injured dog and carried him to an animal hospital.

The police have a large section of the man's coat for a clue.

DES MOINES, June 2.—Almost complete returns from the election this morning showed that Senator A. B. Cummins' majority for renomination at yesterday's primaries is between 25,000 and 30,000. George W. Clark, Republican governor, was renominated by 90,000, and John T. Hamilton, the Democratic nominee for governor, was nominated by approximately 43,000 majority.

State Senator Savage opposed Cummins, and Clarke was opposed by Judge Lee and J. W. Rawley.

MT. LASSEN ERUPTION VISIBLE AGAIN TODAY

Hugh Boulders and Quantities of Sand Thrown out—Outbreak Is First In Seventy Years

REDDING, Cal., June 2.—Eruption from the new crater of Mt. Lassen was again visible today from the village of Mineral, eighteen miles distant from the mountain. Mt. Lassen, which is the southern terminus of the Cascade range, was quiet last night, after throwing out smoke, steam, rocks and volcanic ash for eighteen hours.

Today an expedition was to start from Mineral to investigate whether a new volcanic eruption really has occurred, or whether the disturbance is merely the outbreaking of a new geyser. The north slope of the mountain, snow-clad Sunday, is bare today for two miles and in place of the melted snow, hot rock, ashes and lava are reported, and a 200-foot column of smoke and steam arose from the crater.

The outbreak is the first recorded in seventy years in this district and the first of any importance in over 200 years, although the Lassen volcanic district is at the western edge of a lava field reaching as far east as Montana, and containing many craters.

OUTBREAK IS FIRST IN SEVENTY YEARS SACRAMENTO, June 2.—The eruption from Mt. Lassen continues from the new crater, according to information from rangers to the state forestry office. Huge boulders and quantities of sand are being thrown out. Rangers report that there has no actual damage occurred yet from the eruption.

LAST VIOLENT ERUPTION OCCURRED 200 YEARS AGO SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Information obtained at the offices of the United States Geodetic Survey shows that the latest violent volcanic eruption in the Mt. Lassen district occurred about 200 years ago, the first violent outbreak occurring at least a century before the American revolution.

The estimated ages of the trees still standing in the deposits support these geological observations.

A later and second period of eruption occurred about seventy years ago, but was of such a character as not to attract attention. The presence of hot springs in the Lassen district at Bumpass's Hell, near the south base of the peak, shows continued volcanic activity.

While badly shaken up, the girl was probably not badly hurt. No bones were broken.

HOUSE VOTES FOR WEBB CLAUSE

Unanimously Declares Strikes and Peaceful Picketing to Be Lawful

HOT DEBATE ENLIVENED AMENDMENT DISCUSSION

Republican and Progressive Leaders Indulge in Personalities

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Webb amendment to the Clayton anti-trust bill was adopted today by the house almost unanimously. It makes strikes, assembling and peaceful picketing lawful. Presenting the amendment Representative Webb said that it embodies the ideas of both President Wilson and labor leaders. During the discussions on the amendment Mann and Murdock, Republican and Progressive house leaders respectively, clashed in hot debate.

"Do you think," demanded Representative Murdock of his opponent, "that there is any chance of amalgamation between a set of men who want to go forward and another set who stop to dodge and sidestep everything?"

Mann replied: "There is some talk of amalgamation between the Republicans and the men who voted for Roosevelt at the last election, but the latter are coming back to the Republican party of their own accord, and there will be no amalgamation."

Moore of Pennsylvania in the discussion of the amendment, declared that the house bill was dosed when it voted to give immunity to labor and agricultural associations. Murdock then referred to Moore as a "reactionary," and the fight was on again. Moore retorted that he was glad he did not have to wait for a nod from the gallery before voting, adding: "The gentleman from Kansas waits for the approval of the labor officials." Turning to the gallery until he faced Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, Moore shouted: "I will never vote to exempt either Rockefeller, Carnegie, Gompers or Morrison from the prison laws of our country."

Mann declared the Progressives were divided yesterday on one labor amendment, adding: "We are told that the gentleman from Kansas went to New York to consult the Colonel, but he evidently did not get the information he sought. The gentleman from Kansas had to go to New York to ask the Colonel what the gentleman from Kansas thinks."

Railways Protest Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific Railway Co. and General Counsel A. P. Thoun of the Southern Pacific, witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission, protested vigorously today against the railroad provision in the administration anti-trust bills. Commissioner Clements was also a witness before the committee. The committeemen offered little hope for an early report on the bills.

TOLLS REPEAL TO GO TO VOTE BY END OF THE WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Senate will probably vote on the canal tolls repeal bill before the end of the week. Senator O'Gorman gave notice yesterday that he would ask the Senate Wednesday to take up the bill and keep it constantly before that body to the exclusion of all other business until disposed of.

The indications were today that the repeal bill will pass by at least ten majority, but it will be amended. Even advocates of the bill predicted yesterday that the Simmons amendment or something like it would be adopted.

Three speeches were made yesterday on tolls questions. Senator Colt of Rhode Island, Republican, and Senator Myers of Montana, Democrat, spoke for repeal, and Senator Catron of New Mexico spoke in opposition.

Majority for Repeal is Sure A poll of the Senate by Senators Lodge, Simmons and Kern showed fifty-two senators in favor of repeal. They declare this poll did not include the senators on the doubtful list. This would give the resolution a majority of nine, though the supporters expect a much larger majority. Tomorrow the Senate committee will begin to press a demand for a vote.

PROGRESSIVE, REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC PARTY CHAIRMEN MAKE PREDICTIONS FOR THE FALL CAMPAIGN

Campaign Committee

WILLIAM H. HINEBAUGH
Representative from Illinois, Chairman of Progressive Congressional Campaign Committee

FRANK E. DOREMUS
Representative from Michigan, Chairman of Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee

If the Republican and Progressive chairmen of congressional campaign committees are to be believed the Democrats will lose control of the House of Representatives this fall. They do not believe the public will uphold President Wilson—not the legislation passed by the Democratic majority in Congress since March 4, 1913.

This is what Frank P. Woods, representative from Iowa, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, has to say about the situation:
"I believe the people are disappointed with the Democratic administration, both legislative and executive. It has afforded none of the benefits promised, and has certainly wrought much of the damage feared. It has injured agriculture everywhere and stagnated

DEATH CERTIFICATE FOR AN UNIDENTIFIED CORPSE

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—Coroner Hartwell yesterday signed a death certificate of death by burning of suicidal or homicidal nature in the case of the unidentified man whose charred corpse was found recently near Evergreen Cemetery. The police believe the man was one of a trio who robbed a store at Casa Verdugo and then burned it. They believe he was seriously burned by exploding gasoline at the store and that his companions killed him to prevent his "peaching" when he should be found.

all productive and industrial activity. It has been destructive and discouraging, and not constructive and encouraging. Both its foreign and domestic policies have been vacillating and un-American; it has cared for the interests of everybody except the American citizen. I feel sure that the American people will show their disapproval of this fall by electing Republicans to Congress in many districts now represented by Democrats."

William H. Hinebaugh, representative from Illinois, chairman of the Progressive congressional campaign committee, said this of the situation:
"The Progressive party is pursuing a straightforward course, perfecting its local and state organizations in every northern state and in many of the southern states. It has become a national party rather than a sectional party, and after the 1914 campaign will at once clear the decks for action in the greater battle of 1916.

"Reports from our various state organizations clearly indicate that our delegation in Congress will be more than doubled in the next congress. Hundreds of Progressives will be elected to legislative and county offices throughout the nation, and our organization will then build from the bottom upward. Since 1910 the Republican party has lost 125 members of the lower house of Congress. It is conceded by all who know the facts that the Republicans are bound to lose five senators in the coming elections from the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Kansas and California. A political revolution is on, and revolutions never go backward."

Frank E. Doremus, representative from Michigan, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has this to say:
"The revision of the tariff, the new banking and currency law, the income tax, the development and extension of the parcel post, and numerous other constructive measures have increased the confidence of the people in the Democratic party, and have formed a record of constructive legislation unparalleled in the history of the country."

"What will it profit the people to return the Republican party to power? What constructive program has it to announce?"

"How much of the great work of this administration will it undo? The American people have confidence in Woodrow Wilson. They rejoice in his patriotism and unselfish devotion to duty. They will in the coming election return a Democratic Congress to support him in his constructive policies of progress and reform. They will not elect a Republican Congress that for two years would only embarrass, harass and antagonize him in the great work of restoring this government to the people."

owned for years), with a long black coat thrown in, for extra measure. Mexico is very peculiar that way. Off comes Juan's sombrero; he tucks it under his arm and looks frightened; he doesn't know it, but he's a better man, every inch of him, from his sandled feet to his kindly brown eyes and Indian cheek bones, than any one of the splendidly-shanked, thin-fingered, frayed-hatted, half Spanish, half Indian politicians before him.

"What's your name?" asks one High Hat Juan names himself, and hands out his certificate. Another High Hat rises from his chair, takes the certificate and says to Juan, in effect: "For whom do you vote for president?" Juan tells him, out loud, so that everybody around can hear. If he doesn't speak loudly enough, the High Hat repeats it, in loud tones. It's a sure thing that somebody representing Juan's boss, will be there to hear how Juan votes. Then, at 6 o'clock, the votes are counted. On the night of Sept. 15, 1910, half an hour after the polls had closed, I went to the home of Francisco I. Madero, who had just been elected president, and asked him if he thought the election law and the manner of voting in Mexico was fair. "No, they are not fair," he said to me. "I have just telephoned to a friend of mine, that if he doesn't re-instate a chauffeur whom he discharged today because he did not vote for me, I will not speak to him again. I know that I have been elected president today, under this bad election system, but you may say to the American papers that one of the first things I shall do after I get into office will be to change the election laws of Mexico to provide for secret voting." He never did, though. He had too hard a time keeping himself in the office of president to worry about finding an honest way for other men to get into it, in future generations.

THINGS DOING IN MEXICO

(By William G. Shepherd, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

VERA CRUZ, May 4.—(By Mail to New York)—Two months from tomorrow (July 5), if Huerta is still in power, and, perhaps, even if he isn't, Mexico will perpetrate that occasional farce known as a popular election. Huerta has tried one election, but so few people voted that he didn't dare to claim the election valid. But the election July 5 has been called by the congress of Mexico and Huerta, if he runs, will undoubtedly attempt to prove after it is over that the election was held honestly and that the president of Mexico was chosen by an expression of the popular will.

It can be said that there isn't any way to have an honest election in Mexico, under the present election laws, which are the laws Mexico has always had, since the republic was established. Let's take the imaginary case of Juan Martinez, a laboring man, in the City of Mexico, and watch Juan go through the process of expressing his will as a sovereign voter. In the first place Juan doesn't belong to any party, as John Smith does, in the United States. Only the folks with collars and cuffs belong to parties, and Juan always takes his hat off when he's in their presence. These collar-and-cuff persons have temporary party headquarters in some building in the capital, and these headquarters look like ward, city, county, or state headquarters in any American city. It is littered with handbills, posters and pamphlets and filled with collared-and-cuffed politicians.

But you'll notice that there is only one headquarters. That's the one that belongs to the party of which the outgoing president is a member. The "outgoing" president in Diaz's time—and he will be in Huerta's, too—is always the leading candidate for re-election. He permits a few other persons to make believe they are candidates against him, just for appearance's sake, but he knows that our friend, Juan Martinez, won't vote for them. The "outgoing" president, under Mexico's election laws, always owns the election machinery, and there is no way to get it away from him.

About two weeks before election day, always a man comes around to Juan's house. Juan isn't at home; he's away, at work of course. The man is an election official; he talks with Juan's wife. He wants to know what kind of a man Juan is. Has she ever heard her husband talk against the president, or against the governor of the state? She never has, certainly. As soon as the election official sees that Juan is just a common, everyday, workaday type of Mexican, who won't run amuck on things political, he leaves a certificate for Juan. This certificate entitles Juan to go to the polls to vote and when Juan gets home at night and asks the "Missus" what has happened during the day, she hands him the certificate, which Juan tucks away, against election day. Juan is now a duly registered voter.

At last the Sunday rolls around; election day is always on Sunday in Mexico, because Diaz, at the request of his friends, the great ranch owners in Mexico, set the custom so that that voters would go to the polls on their own time instead of the bosses'. Juan goes to the polls. The chances are he doesn't want to go. But his boss, who is probably a big factory owner, or a big farmer, who wants to stand in with the president and governor, desires Juan's vote. So Juan turns up at the polls. The polls usually consist of a table placed in one of the big double doorways which lead from the sidewalk into the patio or some business house or residence in Juan's neighborhood. Around this table sit men in collars and cuffs and high silk hats. If here's anything that throws Juan into a panic it's a high silk hat. There are thousands of officials in Mexico who hold office just on the strength of a high silk hat (which they have

WEED LAW GAVE THEM HEATED SESSION

McPhee: "Now, we posted East Fourth street and proceeded under the colonel's state law, which he assured us would do the work. It has not done the work, for on both sides of Olive street are great lots of weeds. We want to get something that will do the work."

Heathman: "This whole thing is meant as a slap in the face for me. You are trying to pass this law over my head to ridicule my law, the one that I prepared and had put through the legislature. It is done in contempt of me. I don't think you are treating me right in your endeavor to make it appear that my law is no good. All that is the matter out there is that Alderman did not want to put $7 costs on those people, and McPhee backed him up in it. I thought that street was cleaned up."

McPhee again pointed out that the street was not cleaned up. Grubb said that the matter had been left to Heathman, and the weeds were not cleaned up, and the board would like to try this other law.

No contempt of you is intended, coonel," said Grubb, pouring oil, "but we believe that your law is not applicable to our needs. You are not the first able man who has built a law that was perfectly legal and all right in theory that did not work out in practice. We have no desire to ridicule you or your law."

Heathman (somewhat placated): "I wish to apologize to this board if I have said anything I ought not to have said. I was sore at the way some of you had been acting. I thought you wanted to ridicule my law."

McPhee: "Colonel, you are too thin-skinned."

Alderman moved to accept the apology, but withdrew it as unnecessary. He said that he objected to the colonel's law because it is unwieldy, and an injustice to non-resident property owners. Without their knowledge, under it, a cloud can be put on a man's title. To collect $1, an expense of $10 or $12 can be piled up. The other way, a cloud can be piled up only is asked is more equitable, and Alderman said ninety-nine out of 100 would gladly pay the bill.

Grubb: "What we want is results, and we are not as particular about the legal aspect as the colonel. Colonel, I think you are over-sensitive about this matter. Your legal offspring is healthy and robust, but it can't cut the mustard."

Heathman: "My method is legal and yours is illegal. You will find out that the collector won't collect that illegal tax. I favor legality, and I am against bulldozing when I haven't got a legal right to do it."

The proposed ordinance was not taken up last night, but it is evidently the intention of the board to pass it.

Repairs Needed

Grubb called attention to the fact that the P. E. has not repaired a bad place on North Main near Santa Clara. Alderman said he was tired of the daily delay in getting the Pacific Telephone Company to make good some poor patchwork that was used on the streets, and it was decided to have the city do the work and charge it up to the telephone company.

Raise the Fees

Alderman said that the city building permit fees are so low that they do not bring in enough to pay an inspector. He proposed to change the schedule so that the fees will average $60 a month. Under a schedule offered by him, a $1,000 permit would cost $2.25, and each $1,000 additional fifty cents. The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance as suggested.

An ordinance was passed setting 128 cubic feet as the standard of measurement for wood sold in this city, the wood to be closely packed. J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that a beautiful walnut tree in front of his home on Spurgeon street had been ruined, the Edison company cutting out part of the top and the city lopping off some limbs at the bottom.

Paving Matters Property owners on French street from First to Third petitioned for paving under the specifications used on First street, a 4-inch base and a 1-inch surface. City Engineer Steward said just a trifle over fifty per cent is signed. Consideration was deferred.

J. W. Blee presented a petition for paving Orange avenue from First street to Chestnut avenue, the base to be 4-inch, the surface 1 1/2 inch. Seventy-one per cent of the frontage was signed. Contractor Crandall proposes to do the work by private contract. The petition was granted, property owners to be given fifteen days in which to sign up. Public utility companies were given thirty days to do their work. A permit was given Crandall to enter the street to prepare it for paving.

Contractor Huberman asked to have East Washington closed so he can pave it by private contract, the paving to have a 4-inch base and 1 1/2 inch surface. He said he had 369.3 feet frontage signed up, which is considerably over half the frontage.

Grubb said there had been so much pulling and hauling on the street that he thought eventually the street would have to be paved under the Vrooman Act. He said some of the property owners want more time. This was given.

Huberman then asked to close Ross from Fifth to Washington, saying sixty-five per cent of the frontage had signed up with him. The city engineer reported over sixty per cent signed. Huberman's request to go to work was granted.

Some minor changes in specifications for paving in the future were referred to Grubb, Alderman and City Engineer Steward.

A. G. Steiner of Orange bid $125 for the manure of the city stables and for the street sweepings for a year. Referred to Grubb and English.

Bids opened for furnishing the city with a pump for the water works, by Horton-Hemstock Co., Johnson & Tannahan, Byron Jackson Co., F. E. Harrison, Layne & Bowler, N. H. Cock. The bids were referred to Alderman, Grubb, Greenleaf and Reid.

Property owners on Chestnut from Flower to Baker asked for a sewer, they to pay for the pipe, the city to install it.

Street Superintendent English said that Frank True had made the removal of his barn from an alley near Eighteenth and Main.

Wants More Land Alderman stated that the city water department needs some additional land, and he moved that a committee be appointed to negotiate with Frank Clapp for a price on two lots to the east of the plant. Alderman suggested that possibly condemnation proceedings could be used. Greenleaf, McPhee and Ky were chosen as the committee.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for one or more carloads of water pipes and for fire hydrants and fittings.

The water department was instructed to continue laying a main on South Main street.

GAYNOR LOST MONEY AS

MAYOR OF NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, June 2.—The late William J. Gaynor lost money while mayor of New York City, his friends said yesterday.

His executors have arranged to pay a state inheritance tax on only about $750,000, when his estate was believed to be a million dollars or more. His friends say his salary of $15,000 a year as mayor was not sufficient to meet his expenditures.

DESPERADOES BOARDED CAR SHOWED GUNS

Conductor on Santa Fe Has

Scare—No Attempt at

Hold Up

FULLERTON, June 2.—When the Santa Fe train due here at 5:15 p. m. stopped at Yorba station Sunday, two men got aboard and took seats in the smoking car. They had the appearance of business men, well dressed and of medium size.

Instead of producing tickets when approached by the conductor, the pair stated that they wanted to ride to Fullerton, but had no money. After a brief argument the conductor reached for the bell cord to stop the train, but changed his mind about it when he found a couple of guns pointed toward him, and was threatened with death if he undertook to put the men off the car.

A black mask fell from the pocket of one of the men when he drew his revolver, and the conductor concluded they were desperadoes, who either intended to hold up the train or were trying to escape after a job of some kind already accomplished.

By this time the train had reached Richfield, and the conductor went into the station and telephoned to Fullerton for officers to be on hand upon its arrival here. He found a lot of things needing his attention in other parts of the train and kept so far away from the desperadoes that he failed to notice their escape.

They left the train either at Richfield or Placentia, or perhaps jumped off while it was in motion before reaching the station at Fullerton. At any rate when R. C. Walker, deputy marshal, boarded the cars here there were no robbers in sight.

In company with the trainmen he made a thorough search of every car, inside and outside, including roofs, trucks and every place where it was possible for the men to hide, but they were not to be found.

Officers at Placentia were notified and a search was made for them in that vicinity without result.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS

ARE DOING WELL

Of the many people who were injured since last Thursday evening, Roy Whittaker is perhaps the most seriously hurt. His condition is critical. It is yet too early for the physicians to state what the outcome will be in his case. He is suffering much pain and is very restless. His collar bone and his lumbar vertebrae are broken. The doctors said today that he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Horace Henry, who was run over by an automobile Saturday evening, is doing well.

Mrs. Isabel Gilbert, who was thrown against the stone wall of the steps of the First Congregational church last Thursday evening when an auto driven by her brother, Harold Nelson, left the street, is well on the road to recovery. Mrs. Gilbert has not been unconscious at any time since the accident, in spite of a fractured skull.

Reports on the condition of Robert Gaines, who was hurt Saturday in saving himself from a fall from the Spurgeon Realty building, are very favorable. The doctors state that there is no doubt of his rapid recovery.

Mrs. L. C. Rowley is withstanding the effects of injuries she received Friday afternoon at the corner of Fourth and Main streets remarkably well. The doctors are optimistic as to her ultimate recovery.

SIERRA CLUB CLIMBS PEAK OF SANTIAGO

Doubtless every traveler by train ranch has looked up at the couchant, sphinx-like form of Saddleback and to himself proposed the riddle: "What is the summit like?"

On Memorial Day morning a delegation from the Southern Section of the Sierra Club, with A. J. Perkins as leader, made the trip to solve this question.

An automobile truck was in waiting on arrival of the 9:55 P. E. car, and a party of twenty-two ladies and gentlemen, equipped with clothes and boots suitable for tramping, soon made the transfer and went rolling out of Tustin down its fine avenue of gums and grevilleas and took the road for El Toro, gaining en route considerable information about the extent and the productions of the vast estate they were crossing.

The road up Aliso was satisfactory to everybody because of its smoothness and the picturesque sycamores that bordered the stream-bed. The truck took the steep grade over into Trabuco in good shape and the long coast down to the schoolhouse was decidedly exhilarating.

Turning out of Trabuco into the road to the Joplin ranch there was some exciting work avoiding overhead branches and underneath ruts until a point a quarter of a mile or less from Joplin's was reached, where the grade became too steep for the truck.

By arrangement previously made with H. McMillan, pack animals were in waiting here and the bedding to be used by the party was transferred to the backs of the animals.

The Joplin ranch itself has an altitude of about 1500 feet and commands an extensive view. Two of the ladies were well content to remain here at the ranch house among the olives, orange trees and vines until the party returned the next day.

Joyfully the party set forth over the wide, well-marked trail, following the ridge for a couple of miles or more with a good deal of up grade.

About the time the party was getting warmed up and beginning to sigh for water, it dropped down into Santiago Canyon at a point known as "Old Camp." Here a stream of clear cold water went singing over the stones, a group of oaks afforded pleasant shade, and luxuriant green grass grew all around, all around. A considerable stay was made to enjoy these surroundings and allow the more leisurely to come up.

Then the way led upward along the stream, and to many of the party the wonderful beauty and variety of the wild flowers was a positive revelation. No cultivated parterre ever furnished flowers that could compare with the purple lupines, heliotropes, painted Mariposa lilies, tall Matilija poppies with their large, white, crepe-like petals and golden centers, evening primroses, godolias, yellow tree poppies and some belated California lilies, all of which helped to beguile the party on its way.

There was much inquiry as to the names of these floral beauties who smiled at the party along its path, and some objection to a choice between some misleading common sense name or some unpronounceable and preposterous scientific name. For example, it did seem rough to saddle upon a delicate, dainty, lily-like plant the name, "Syrinchium," and yet it was wrong to call it "Blue-eyed Grass," since it was not a grass at all but a kind of iris.

And thus, water, grass, flowers, and trees, up to a point known as Jami-on's camp, where the ranger's white tent showed under the trees and a sign said "Last Water." From this point the grade was rather steep and the trail passed through a chaparral of buckhorn and manzanita higher than one's head.

At 6 o'clock all had arrived and some were gazing at the crimson sun descending in a fleecy bed of clouds, while others more intent on inner man than outer nature were partaking of the hot steak and smoking beans which Mr. McMillan had prepared in advance over the red coals of an open fire which glowed a hospitable welcome to tired and hungry hikers.

The ranger, Mr. Burt Stephenson, Mrs. Stephenson and Miss Grouard, who has the school at El Toro, had made the ascent in advance and were assisting in making the party comfortable.

The lookout station on the very crest, where, in a four-sided tower furnished with windows, the fire watch remains during the dry season to detect with his powerful glass incipient fires, was a great point of attraction; here the large map under was noticed, which is used in locating the fires seen, and the telephone by which the alarm can be sent to both El Toro and Temescal.

In the hollow below the summit, sheltered by chaparral, is a cleared space and the ranger's cabin, and here, after supper was finished, the hikers had their customary campfire. Mr. Stephenson gave plenty of fire dry knots to burn, and thanks to him, there was not the customary "rustling" for deadwood.

Gathered in a circle with the firelight throwing a cheerful glow over all, there was an impromptu program consisting of war songs in honor of Memorial Day, a whistling solo, announcements by the secretary in regard to future trips and the purchase of a camp neighboring the club's home in Santa Anita Canyon, the reading of a short story, and the answering of many questions about his work addressed to Mr. Stephenson, the ranger.

Blankets and sleeping bags were placed as advantageously as possible on the ground among the bushes and the camp slept until sunrise when many arose to get the view, which is clearest at this time.

LEGISLATION AGAINST TIPPING

The Canadian parliament is passing a bill imposing a fine of $100 for giving or receiving a tip, or permitting an employee to receive one. If this law works well, there will be a move to place it on the statute books of our states.

The Canadians are more tractable and phlegmatic, and take more kindly to state regulation than do our people. But our tipping system causes intense irritation, and is a heavy tax on salesmen and others whose business requires constant travel.

An unenforced law is not merely dead wood, but it tends to make a joke of all law. It will not be the least use here to enact statutes against tipping unless the American people really mean to end the practice.

Landlords have never realized what a large support there would be for strictly "no tip" hotels and restaurants. Few people like the dilemma that tipping places on them. If they do tip, they know they are the victim of a graft, if they don't, they feel they have been mean. If the associations of commercial travellers would band themselves together to patronize "no tip" houses, a strong basis of support would be given to such establishments.

A statute might well be passed as an experiment, making it illegal to tip on the railroads. The tip to the sleeping car porter is not usually compensation for additional service performed, it is merely a gratuity to the company that pays the porter's salary.

In choosing restaurants, the man who dislikes tipping can at least select less aristocratic places where the custom has little hold. In railroad travel he has no such choice, but is practically forced to contribute a supplementary price to the company for his comfort. This is contrary to the theory of a common carrier's service, equal rights to all, first come, first served.

RIPE FOR PROHIBITION

New Zealand is ready to burst through the period of local option into full prohibition, according to Mr. Wesley Spragg, president of the New Zealand Dairyman's Association, and also president of the New Zealand Temperance Alliance. Mr. Spragg on a trip to the United States formed the opinion that we in America have experienced every phase of the temperance warfare that they have gone through in New Zealand, and with somewhat similar results in each case.

The local no-license movement has been very similar to the same movement in America, but has been handicapped by a requirement of 60 per cent majority. If it had not been for this handicap New Zealand would already be practically a saloonless land, as every electorate in the provinces has carried no-license with the exception of three. It is estimated that from 69 to 73 per cent of the entire electorate has voted for prohibition.

There is now on the statute books a Dominion abolition measure which, however, is also hampered by a 60 per cent requirement. The actual vote at the last polling throughout the whole Dominion was in excess of 55 per cent in favor of the most drastic prohibition law which has yet been suggested by any country. This legislation provides for the absolute exclusion of alcohol for beverage purposes. It would only permit its sale for use in the arts and sciences and for medicinal, industrial and religious purposes. A certain degree of relief from the undemocratic vote requirement is expected at the hands of parliament. A bill has already been introduced with the object of reducing the vote necessary to carry prohibition to 55 per cent. If this bill goes through during the coming session of Parliament, and the temperance forces are again able to secure a vote of 55 per cent, as was done at the last polling, New Zealand will go for prohibition.

In selecting teachers, enthusiasm, spontaneity, and affection for children should count quite as much as book knowledge. A girl may pass an excellent scholastic examination. Yet her attitude on life may be so apathetic, she may present so cold a face to her little flock, that they remain phlegmatic and lifeless.

W. A. HUFF

The Political Watchtower

It never rains but it pours. Things were going along as peacefully as the dream of a cow chewing her cud in the shade when the tenor of things met with a change. The dream thereafter was more like that of a pirate's nightmare.

We are talking about the office of constable of Santa Ana township. The township has two of them. The men who have been holding the jobs down since last election are C. E. Jackson and F. W. Heard. Jackson doesn't want to be constable any more. He wants to be sheriff. Heard is plenty willing to stand pat, and as he sees it there is no reason why he should be disturbed.

It looked as though Henry Isenberg would be the sole aspirant to succeed Jackson. It drifted along here week after week. It looked as though they held straight, and all was peaceful. But this thing of running for office is sometimes like measles, whooping cough and accidents—they come in epidemics.

The first person attacked by the recent contagious outbreak was C. I. Pond, the Vance street grocer, a man whose standing, without further argument, signifies a lot of votes. Then came a report that Officer Theo. Lacy, Jr., who is "Budge" for short, was about to be quarantined, and that among those who had it was A. K. Cravath, once sheriff of San Diego county, and now a deputy constable here, father of the famous Home Run Gavy. If the dad is as good at knocking out votes as he is at slugging the horsehide, he will be on the bases after the primaries.

That reminds the Watchman of something. When there are two to elect and more than two running, there is no finale at the primaries. When there is one to elect and only two running, the thing will be settled right then and there on August 25, because one of them will get a majority of the votes cast for that office. The rule of majority of votes cast won't get a judge or a constable across at the primaries, unless there are only two running.

There will be at least five on the ballot for judge and may be more than that for constable.

The rule is that when two are to be elected for an office under this non-partisan plan in county offices, the November ballot must carry the names of the four persons who at the primaries received the highest votes. For instance, suppose A, B, C, D, E and F are running for constable. A gets 900, B 800, C 750, D 30, and F 20, you would think that since A and B have all the best of it the game would be called. Not so. The four highest would stay in, and C and D must face the November slaughter. They would be licked in August and butchered in November.

All those who have thought of running for office will have to come to a show down, mighty soon now. They can't forever hold back to consider the proposition, to look over the ground, to see their friends or to await developments. June is upon them. Nomination petitions can be started after June 15 and they must be signed and filed with the county clerk on or before July 16. If the petition is not filed by July 17 the name won't go on the ballot.

Thus the doubting prospect must soon make up his mind as to which way he is going to jump—and then jump.

Some of the wise ones think the lists are about made up, and except in township offices the Townsman can expect but few new names to add to the awkwardness of situations and the gaiety of precincts and voters in general.

It is the Watchman's opinion that the aforesaid wise ones are correct in their sizing up of the outlook. Since the judgeship fights are lined out and the sheriffs' scrap dwindled down from a quintet to a trio, the political atmosphere hereabout has clarified. You can just about count on having your choice out of the following with a possibly an addition here and there: Superior Judge (vote for two)—Z. B. West, W. H. Thomas, R. Y. Williams, W. F. Heathman, Lee A. Daniel.

District Attorney—L. A. West, E. J. Marks. Sheriff—C. E. Ruddock, C. E. Jackson, H. A. Wassum. Superintendent of Schools—R. P. Mitchell, Mrs. Viola S. Norman. Recorder—J. M. Backs, Miss Justine Whitney.

Auditor—C. D. Lester, William Jerome. Treasurer—J. C. Joplin, D. W. Hasson. Clerk—W. B. Williams, (P. L. Tople possibly).

Assessor—Jas. Sleeper. (All by his lones).

Tax Collector—J. C. Lamb. (Not looking for trouble.) Coroner and Public Administrator—T. A. Winbiger. (Rests in peace.) Surveyor—J. L. McBride. (Too busy to hunt up an opponent.)

Supervisor, second district—T. B. Sherr, G. W. Moore, Van Winkle. Supervisor, fourth district—F. W. Struck, L. E. Smith. Supervisor, fifth district—Jasper Leck, George Jeffrey, J. P. Greeley.

Santa Ana Township, Justice of the peace—J. B. Cox, George Huntington. Santa Ana Township, Constable (vote for two)—F. W. Heard, Henry Isenberg, C. I. Pond, (A. K. Cravath and Theo. Lacy, Jr., possibly).

Some of the other townships are going to have scraps of their own. Just because a township is a township and not a county, no reason why there can't be a lot of fun mixed up in politics. It will be a lot of fun for those who get there.

We might spend some time calling your attention to a few observations, such as they are. We have hitherto referred to the fact that John Cook of Anaheim almost ran for sheriff and that the San Joaquin precinct can show to easy two-thirds for each of several candidates for sheriff, including Cook and Jernigan, who are not running. We have called attention to the fact that Justice of the Peace Cox has a middle name, that P. L. Tople is trying to judge what his batting average would be if he should conclude to run for county clerk. But what we want to note is that Col. W. F. Heathman, that old Democratic war horse from the cotton plantations of Alabama, has done what no other candidate in this county—so far as our spy-glass has disclosed—has done yet. We know full well that the Colonel has long years of experience in garnering in the votes, and votes sure do count, but we were unprepared for the innovation sprung by him in this campaign. The bold thing that he has gone and done is done every day in Los Angeles, San Diego and some other counties, but in Orange county Col. Heathman is the only onliest in the venture.

Do you know what he did? Hasn't he given you one of his cards? No, well, he will, so we'll prepare you for the shock. That card has the Colonel's picture on it.

Here is where a county officer got a preacher in bad. About the only excuse the Townsman has to offer for dragging the tale into print in this department of the Register is that a county officer had something to do with it. The official is Treasurer J.

Whatever the price you care to pay, we can take care of your wants in our complete young men's department. Norfolk and English styles in the newest

C. Joplin, and the preacher is that genial old soul, Rev. Paul E. Wright, whose friends leave off the Rev. and call him Paul. Like some other preachers, Joplin has a real old Missouri appetite for string beans, and he was overjoyed this morning when Joplin told him to get on his wheel and ride up to Joplin's place and pick all the string beans he wanted. The parson thought he knew where Joplin lived, and he stopped there and had a big paper sack crowded full of the vegetable when out stepped a great big man.

"Say, watchew doing there?" asked he.

"Picking beans," replied the preacher.

"Whose beans are they?" "They're mine, what I've got, anyhow." "That's my bean patch, and you git." The preacher began to apologize, but the big fellow went off and left him saying things to himself. Rev. Wright was so much alarmed over being caught stealing string beans that he got on his wheel and was half way to the courthouse to tell Joplin about it before he noticed that he was still hanging tight to the sack of beans.

PERMANENT SERVIAN LEGATION, WASHINGTON

BELGRADE, Servia, June 2.—Parliament today formally approved the project for the establishment of a permanent Servian legation at Washington. This has been made necessary by the increased political and commercial importance acquired by Servia as a result of having doubled its territory during the two recent Balkan wars.

In official circles today it was generally conceded that the first Servian minister to the United States will be Slavko Y. Grouitch, at present undersecretary of foreign affairs. Mrs. Grouitch, who was formerly Miss Mabel Dunlap, daughter of Charles Randolph Dunlop of Virginia, has just returned to Belgrade from Washington where, on behalf of the Servian government, she looked over the respective sites for the new legation. The latter will be established early in 1915.

Drexel Biddle, the chief of the great chain of Drexel Biddle Bible classes, was concerning in Philadelphia a charity society that spent more of its income in ferreting out fake than in relieving genuine distress. "There is not much help in such a charity as that," said Mr. Drexel Biddle. "It reminds me of the woman at whose door a tramp knocked on a bitter March day.

"The tramp was miserably clad, and under the beating of the terrible March winds the poor fellow was blue and shivering with cold. 'Lady,' he gasped, 'I've hardly got a rag to my back. Can you help me?' 'Why, certainly! There's my rag bag behind the door,' the lady answered calmly. 'Help yourself.'"

His Fifth Birthday

At Seal Beach, May 30, 1914, Master Linnie Hockings celebrated his fifth birthday with a party at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. John Deveney, on Fourteenth street.

Those present were: Masters Linnie Hockings, Maurice Magee, David Morris, Billy Richards, George Magee, Donald Morris of Seal Beach; Irene Harlin, Mina Harlin, Thelma Harlin of Irvine; Cecilia Detrick of Anaheim.

Methodist At Home

The ladies of the First Methodist church held a recent "At Home" at the French street residence of Mrs. A. J. Visel. There were three dozen ladies present to enjoy the short but excellent program, which was opened by a piano number, Mrs. Visel playing. Mrs. C. W. Burns gave a reading, and Master Jasper Courtney read the "Raggedy, Raggedy Man" so well that by request he entertained the company with two other recitations. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess before the close of the afternoon.

Travel Section, Number Two

Travel Section, Number Two, of the Ebbl Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. James Harrison, 816 Bush street. Mrs. C. E. French, president of the club, called the meeting to order and conducted the preliminary exercises. Roll call was responded to by items on the review of the study of South America.

Election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. French, president; Mrs. C. F. Crose, vice president; Mrs. A. L. Dearing, secretary.

Mrs. Louise Scarborough read a paper on Ecuador, and Miss Talbot read some paragraphs from "Travel in South America." After the study hour had ended the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Dr. Menges and Mrs. Finch of Fullerton.

Pretty School Cantata

The first full rehearsal of the "Brownie Band Cantata" to be given at the Grand Opera House Saturday evening by the pupils of Lincoln school, will be held today. Everyone is enthusiastic over the results so far. The story woven through the cantata is very prettily brought out. The children plan for a day in the woods, and may be seen on their way. In the woods may be seen wood-nymphs, Gypsy maids, butterflies and brownies.

Marjorie Blauer, in chasing a beautiful butterfly impersonated by Constance Crookshank, becomes lost from her playmates. In her distress and fatigue, she becomes exhausted and falls asleep. The fairy princess, Marian Hickman, finds her, and offers to show her in her dreams some of the people of fairyland.

Fairies and elves and brownies appear, also Tommy Long Wing and Billy Big Eye, two owls. Then comes the fairy queen, Jane Harding, who offers to help Marjorie by bringing the brownies to find her.

The children appear, discover their loss, appeal to the brownies themselves, and Marjorie is restored to them as a water lily.

Art Study Club

The Art Study Club will meet Wednesday evening, June 3, at the home of Miss Alexander, 1116 French street. This will be a social evening as it is the last meeting of the season.

A good time is anticipated. Each member is entitled to take one guest. Those taking guests are asked to notify Miss Alexander before tomorrow noon.

KANSAS PICNIC

Former Residents of Clay and Cloud Counties Meet in Pleasant Reunion

The former residents of Clay and Cloud counties, Kansas, held a reunion on Decoration Day at Newport Beach. The early Pacific Electric cars found many Kansans on their way to the beach while many more went in automobiles and buggies until there were something over a hundred people who had gathered to spend the day together. Many old acquaintances were renewed.

The place of meeting was the near end of the old Southern Pacific pier. Promptly at 12 o'clock a picnic dinner was served. There was an abundance of good things to eat such as only those who are from the Sunflower state know how to prepare. It seemed that the men had not forgotten the picnic dinners in the East, for they gently reminded the ladies that although everything was very good, they had not had as much chicken as they used to have in the good old state and suggested that on the 30th of May, 1915, the ladies were not to forget about fried chicken.

At the close of dinner while all were seated around the table, Dr. Enoch was called on for a talk. He suggested that the picnicers make the reunion an annual affair, also that an organization would be a good thing. Acting on his suggestion a business meeting was held and it was decided that May 30 is to be the date of the annual reunion of all Clay and Cloud counties, Kansas, people who live in Orange county. The place of meeting is to be settled later. An election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. G. Lucas; vice president, Dr. Enoch; treasurer, W. H. Stevenson; secretary, Mrs. C. T. Eisele. A program committee will be appointed later. J. U. Whitsett of San Diego agreed to come back next year and give a talk on Kansas in the early '60s.

After business had been disposed of different ones gave short talks. Among these were Dr. Enoch, J. Y. Whitsett, A. G. Lucas and others. The remaining hours until going home time were spent by the older ones in a social way, while the children had the best of good times playing in the sand and wading in the surf.

When good byes came all expressed the wish that everyone then present might meet again and spend another pleasant time together next year. It is hoped that everyone belonging to Clay and Cloud counties will attend the picnic planned for next year and make it one of the most pleasant days of the year and show how proud all are of the good old state of Kansas.

Those present Saturday from Cloud county were the families of A. G. Lucas, D. T. Pinnix, H. F. Rodgers, C. M. Key, Charley Gillispay, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Belle Rose Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Clonkite, Pasadena; R. R. Whitsett, Los Angeles; J. Y. Whitsett, San Diego.

The families from Clay county were those of William Eisele, T. J. McCarter, R. R. Boner, Wm. Duncan, T. R. McCarter, C. T. Eisele, W. H. Stevenson, D. F. Cook, Dr. Enoch, R. E. Williams; Thos. MERCHANTS LUNCH WAS A SUCCESS

Mac Robbins the Speaker, Using "Compensation Law" as Subject

What was without a doubt one of the most successful "get together" luncheons held so far by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association was the one given this noon at Young's cafe, North Main street. Mac O. Robbins was the speaker, using for his subject, "The Workmen's Compensation Law."

Robbins explained clearly the workings of the law. His knowledge of the subject is thorough and a great many points not before known to the merchants were elucidated by him. Robbins' paper follows:

The general attitude of the public towards industrial accidents has undergone a very marked change within the past few years. Laws of the state of California are evidence of this development.

Previous to 1911 an injured employee stood a very slim chance of collecting damages by law. If the accident was due in any measure to negligence on his own part, or to negligence on the part of a fellow workman, or to risk of the occupation he was held to assume, the employer could avoid payment of damages.

A Potpourri of News and Views

From the Los Angeles Financial News

Before Railroad Commission

The Southern Counties Gas Company of California has filed an application with the Railroad Commission asking authority to cancel an escrow agreement with the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank dated March 9, 1911, under the terms of which 5000 shares of the 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock of the company was to be issued and registered by the bank. Under the agreement, there has been issued 3400 shares at the par value of $340,000 and there are unissued 1600 shares. The owners of the issued preferred stock and the officers of the bank have agreed that the authority of the Railroad Commission under the terms of the Public Utility Act over all issues of public utility stock is sufficient to safeguard their investment.

The Appleton Land, Water and Power Company of Los Angeles, operating in San Bernardino County as a land and water corporation, has filed an application asking authority to lease its water plant in the town of Victorville, San Bernardino County, to the Victorville Domestic Water Company. The lease—under the agreement submitted to the Commission for approval—will pay to the Appleton Company an amount equal to the annual net revenue now received by the applicant from its distributing system. The Victorville distributing system is valued by the applicant at $15,000.

The Railroad Commission has rendered a decision authorizing the Southern California Gas Company to issue $325,000 par value of its preferred stock and sell the same to N. W. Halsey and Company. This is a part of a $750,000 issue, which had previously been authorized but which had not all been sold within the time prescribed by the original order of the commission.

James A. Murray and Ed. Fletcher, owning a water system distributing water to the city of San Diego, East San Diego, La Mesa, El Cajon and adjacent territory in the county of San Diego, have filed an application asking authority to sell and convey their property to the Cuyamaca Water Company.

The Commission has rendered a decision authorizing the Downey Light, Power and Water Company to sell its electric system in Los Angeles County to the Southern California Edison Company for $50,938.30. The purchasers will reduce the rates for both light and power.

The Commission has rendered a decision authorizing the Sierra Madre Water Company to transfer its water system to the city of Sierra Madre, Los Angeles County, for the sum of $108,952.01.

Wabash Reorganization Scheme

Plans for the reorganization of the Wabash system contemplate a $10,000,000 reduction in the capital of the company and an assessment of $20 per share on all stockholders. Preferred stockholders are to receive the new stock at par and common stockholders at 88, after each has surrendered his old stock and paid the $20 assessment. There is to be no preferred stock in the new issue. Holders of unsecured claims will receive 50 per cent. The present capital of the company is $219,703,877. After reorganization the capital will be $209,693,000, comprised of $64,583,000 in undisturbed securities and $145,018,000 in securities. The exact reduction of stock therefore will be $10,192,877.

Imports Increase, Exports Decline

Domestic exports last month totalled $158,996,394, a decrease of $37,237,312 compared with April, 1913. Foreign exports totalled $3,272,458, against $3,579,732 in April, 1913. For ten months ending April, 1914, imports totaled $1,571,219,302, against $1,548,038,644 last year, and domestic exports $2,018,112,538 against $2,077,277,678 last year.

Reserve Bank Directors

Class "A and B" directors for the Federal Reserve Bank in this (Twelfth) district, which will be located in San Francisco, were nominated at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco, Tuesday. Forty-five bankers were present at the meeting. The directors nominated are:

Charles K. McIntosh, vice president of the Bank of California, San Francisco.

James K. Lynch, vice president of the First National Bank of San Francisco.

Alden Anderson, president Capital National Bank, Sacramento.

The directors representing commercial and industrial interests were named as follows:

A. B. C. Dohrmann, hardware merchant, San Francisco.

J. A. McGregor, Union Iron Works, San Francisco.

Elmer H. Cox, lumberman, Madera, Cal.

The nominations were presented by a committee chosen at a conference of bankers in San Francisco the week previous. The committee was composed of I. W. Hellman, San Francisco; J. Carlston, Oakland; W. T. Jeter, Santa Cruz; Alfred Kutner, Fresno; W. K. Cole, Berkeley; G. W. Peltier, Sacramento. All the class "A" directors were present and consented to serve. The selection meets with the unanimous approval of Los Angeles banks. As soon as the District Bank is established a branch will be opened in Los Angeles, which will be under the direction of the member banks here.

The formal papers necessary to establish the Federal Reserve Bank were signed Wednesday by representatives of the National Banks and forwarded to Washington. Signatures appended were from representatives of The First National Bank, San Francisco; First National Bank, Portland; Deseret National Bank, Salt Lake City; National Bank of Commerce, Seattle; Phoenix National Bank, Phoenix.

The recommendations of the nomination committee for directors of the banks were sent to the 510 member banks in the district. The vote will be taken by mail.

The committee to complete the organization, in Washington, expect that by the end of this week they will have received all the nominations for class "A" and "B" directors and the names of the District Reserve electors chosen by the subscribing banks. A vote upon them will be taken early in June. Every effort is being made to have the banks in operation by August 1.

Great Crops Assured

Edward Chambers, vice president of the Santa Fe Railway System, in charge of traffic, who arrived in Los Angeles this week from a tour over the 11,000 miles of the Santa Fe System, in an interview, said:

"I have never seen crop conditions as good in the Western and Southern States as they are today. The enormous winter wheat crop is practically assured now. These wonderful crops will not only be of vast benefit to California and the entire West and South, but I am convinced they will do much toward establishing general business activity throughout the United States."

"I have been over the entire system, talked with the local agents and business men in every large town and city on the various lines, noted conditions personally as far as possible, and I find the crops of the entire territory in a condition of unparalleled excellence. This is most encouraging. Indeed, I can think of nothing which is more assuring as regards the future outlook for business, too, and regarding in good crops, but I do know that this great belt of States is in magnificent shape today, and it is toward these States that the nation always looks for crop reports in making its financial predictions."

OIL IN CALGARY-- PROVINCE IS OIL-MAD

Gusher at Dingman Rewards
Years Drilling—Real Boom
Follows Discovery

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 2.—Rivaling the excitement of the early days of oil discoveries in California, the entire province of Alberta, with Calgary as its center, is oil mad today.

Drilling for it has been going on intermittently for more than a year, but only a few days ago oil was discovered at Dingman. Oil gushes there, it is asserted, to a height of 90 feet.

Following the report of the discovery hundreds of oil leases were taken up and the country flooded with wildcat companies. More than 100 drilling outfits were ordered by telegraph.

Vancouver, although it is far from the scene of the activity, has taken on boom airs. Brokers' offices are opening on every hand. The stock exchange will open next Monday. The excitement is opening many hidden coffers, and considerable stock is changing hands.

For Sale or Exchange

Last week I used this space to tell you about 100 acres of land in the San Joaquin Valley which I want to sell, told you why I would divide it and sell 40 or 60 acres, and would even take clear cottage property as part or all payment. Now there can't be much question about the real value of this land being more than $125.00 per acre and going considerably higher, land that is just about as level as a floor, easily worked and is now in crop, part of it with an estimated 20 sack crop of barley, part of it with a fine crop of sugar beets estimated at 20 tons, part of it in alfalfa, water stocked and only 1¼ miles from good little town with good schools, churches and modern conveniences, really a delightful home community. I don't know where you can equal it on this class of farming land. I will be glad to tell you about it. If you can't reach me by phone just drop me a line by mail, give your address and phone number. I also want to remind you that I have some vacant Valencia land near Villa Park which I will sell at about ¼ of its value compared to neighboring prices and I think that about ¼ of its value would buy by home place, 2220 North Main street. At some future date I may tell you a lot about a very desirable locality in San Luis Obispo county.

Los Angeles Produce Market
Cool weather in the Imperial Valley as well as through Southern California is causing a steadier supply of fruits than the ordinary hot days. Shipments have not been nearly as large up to this time as they were last year in cantaloupes, apricots, peaches or watermelons. Prices consequently have been maintained at a higher level. There is a very large crop of cantaloupes to harvest and a continuation of present conditions for another week or two will have the effect of preventing serious congestion and sudden price declines. Pony crates, 54 melons to the crate sold at $2.50 yesterday morning and standards sold at $3.25 and upward. A few watermelons were received and the price continued from 4 to 5 cents a pound. There are Chileans and rattlesnakes in variety.

The market on cherries was very steady and the lowest prices quoted were 8 cents on fair stock with the best selling at 9 to 10. Canneries in the north are asking for all the cherries they can get and paying a fancy price for them on account of the shortage in the crop. Santa Clara and Santa Cruz Valley are expected to do their share in reducing the cost of the fruit for a few days this week. Berry arrivals were good and strawberries are more plentiful and selling around 5 cents a basket.

Staple products were steady on the market and receipts were apparently heavy according to some of the figures, but these are for three days and consequently stand for very light shipments. Egg arrivals were 929 cases. The demand for butter was very good and creamery extra continued to sell at 25 cents a pound. Potato arrivals were 2925 sacks. The call for spuds was good as far as local new stock was concerned but on northern there is no great demand and fancy rivers are selling around $1.60.

Zimmerman Gets Judgment in Case Brought by Pump
Company

Judge Thomas today gave a decision for the defendant in the suit brought by M. Nasir for his son against William Cochems of the Vienna Bakery for $7635 because the boy lost his hand when he collided with Cochems' automobile.

The decision stated that there was little question as to the exact conditions. Cochems was going out of an alley at a rate of three or four miles an hour when the boy, shoving himself along on one skate, ran into the machine. Cochems stopped in half a length. The boy's hand became tangled in the driving chain.

The judge finds that there was no negligence on Cochems' part, that the boy was not watching ahead, but had his eyes on the sidewalk. Scarborough & Forgy represented Nasir and H. C. Head represented Cochems.

He Got Damages

In an action brought by Fairbanks Morse Co. against W. A. Zimmerman, damages of $11.00 was given Zimmerman. The pump company sued for $1982 pay for a pump installed on Zimmerman's ranch at Tulare. Zimmerman's cross-complaint alleged that the pump did not work, and that Zimmerman lost his crop for lack of water, and for that he got judgment. He asked $3000. E. E. Keech represented the defendant.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT
WILL ARREST
BOTH OF THEM
FOR SPEEDING

Complaints Have Been Prepared by the District Attorney

Complaints have been prepared in the district attorney's office charging Harold Nelson of Santa Ana and H. R. Taylor of Los Angeles with speeding. These two men were driving the two automobiles that were going south on Main street Thursday evening when one of them, that driven by Nelson, veered into the steps of the First Congregational church, at which time Nelson's sister, Mrs. Isabel Gilbert of Monrovia, who was riding with him, was seriously injured.

The local officers have the names of ten or twelve persons who saw the two cars racing on Main street. Among the witnesses are Deputy Sheriff Boynton and Constable Heard, who estimated the speed of the cars at forty miles an hour at least. The day following the accident, Taylor learned that he was wanted for speeding. He went to the district attorney's office and left his address.

Has No License

Foster O. Dudgeon has been arrested on a charge of practicing dentistry at Brea without first having secured a state license. Dudgeon was $100 bail. The crime of which the man is accused is a high misdemeanor, and must be tried in the superior court. The preliminary examination was set by Justice Cox for June 10.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark,
Glossy, Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur now darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Advertisement.

TACOMA, REAL SUCCESS

TACOMA, June 2.—Tacoma's first experience with a woman police judge is voted to be a success. Miss Nelda Jaeger, an attorney, presided over the court in the absence of Judge Magill, and dealt out prompt justice to a long list of petty offenders.

The first man to face Miss Jaeger was Pat Gerham, charged with molesting two negro women. Miss Jaeger looked the prisoner over and said: "Well, Patrick, what have you to say for yourself?"

Pat shifted his feet and replied "Nawthin'."

"Well, if that's the case, it will be about ten and costs for you," sweetly smiled the judge.

Several common drunks were sentenced or fined. A few speeders found out that they couldn't beg off. The docket was cleared in record time, and the judge departed with her vanity bag and law books and the admiration of the usual police court spectators.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Floral wreaths yesterday were placed on the grave of Captain James Lawrence, who carved into American history the motto of the United States navy: "Don't give up the ship!" It was 161 years ago that Captain Lawrence died.

POPE IS 79 TODAY; IS CONGRATULATED

ROME, June 2.—Pope Pius X was seventy-nine years old today. From early yesterday until late today a veritable flood of congratulatory letters and telegrams from all over the civilized world poured into the Vatican. Many hundreds came from missionaries and other representatives of the Catholic Church who are in the wilds of countries uncivilized. The good wishes to the Pope came from all classes of people. The name of every ruler and head of every nation was among the list of messages. But perhaps the messages most highly prized and those which more deeply touched the heart of the pontiff were those from his relatives and the lowly friends he had made at Giuseppe Saragat, a poor boy, when he lived at Riese, Italy.

Scores of visitors, including high church dignitaries, called at the Vatican today to pay their respects. Many cardinals who attended the recent consistory, at which thirteen new cardinals were awarded the red hat, the insignia of their high office, were among the visitors.

MERCHANTS' LUNCH WAS A SUCCESS

bills for ninety days, 65 per cent of his wages after the first two weeks, and 40 per cent of his weekly wages after 20 weeks and until death.

You are not liable for injuries to your clerks after they leave your premises, but if you hire a delivery boy and his motorcycle, you are liable for injuries to him until he puts the bike in the shed at home.

Until the commission has decided more cases, your lawyer's opinions, or your insurance broker's opinions can be opinions only. There are very few precedents to go by. One attorney summed up the present condition about like this: "I'd confidently take either side of a good many questions arising under the new law, and if there's as much doubt as to the application of the law in the minds of the Industrial Accident Commission as there is in my own, I'd better get under cover of a policy. I'll insure and let the insurance company pay for having the precedents established."

It may be that in considering this law and its application to your own individual business, you greatly minimize the risk you run. The Statistical Bulletin of the California Industrial Accident Board for 1913 has just been published. Since 1911 this board has been collecting data of all industrial accidents. The total number injured in 1913 was 36,462, of whom 1296 were permanently disabled, and 823 were killed. Just let those figures soak in—more than 36,000 injured, nearly 1300 permanently crippled and over 800 killed outright in the state of California. Can you say that your employee will not make a journey to the hospital or perhaps the long, long journey before the day is out? A new man commenced work for A. C. Black at eight in the morning, and we had an accident report on him by eleven of the same day. Industrial accidents are occurring all around us. A few weeks ago a bookkeeper in Los Angeles gallantly opened the door for a very good looking young lady and helped her up the steps. His foot slipped; he fell, fractured his skull and died. The insurance company paid $5,000. A man over at Placentia was opening a crate of goods a few days ago and he tore his hand on a nail or a metal binding strip. Blood followed, a part of his hand was amputated. A packinghouse foreman in Fullerton slipped on a piece of orange peel some tourist had dropped on the warehouse floor, fell and broke his arm. A grocer's delivery boy here in Santa Ana was hurrying in to deliver a basket of goods; a calla lily stem was across the sidewalk, his foot struck it, the stem wrapped around his ankle with sufficient strength to throw him, and he fell, badly straining his wrist. In San Diego a short time ago a man was working on a board staging. He stepped on the end of the board beyond the bracket. The board upended, he fell, and the board, not content with pitching the fellow down two or three stories, slipped off, followed him down, struck him on the head and killed him.

These are not unusual cases. They are simply picked up from the general run of happenings about us. There is some risk in every occupation, and for the merchant or manufacturer who believes in "safety first" it is wisdom to insure. Your profits for years may go in a moment's accident over which you may have absolutely no control.

Now, just a word as to insurance. Premiums are taxes. Insurance is a Kolb & Dill put in and take out game—we all put in and few take out. Compensation is the most hazardous class of insurance written. Larger reserves must be laid away. Claims may not mature for years in the life pension cases. Compensation insurance will be the most watched and the most restricted by insurance commissions generally, just on this account. For your policy to be of the most benefit to you, the company behind it must remain solvent for years. While it is true that rates are higher now than under the old law, bear in mind that while only a percentage of accidents became claims under the old law, every accident necessitates at least a doctor's bill under the new.

It is an actual fact that casualty companies have made an average underwriting profit of but 1.6 per cent during the past ten years. It is an actual fact that even with the big rate increase due to the increased hazard under the new law, commissions and other expenses have been cut way down. There is less commission allowed for writing compensation insurance than any other line, and I am frank to state, gentlemen, that more real study, time and elbow grease are necessary to competently write compensation insurance than to write any other of the many insurance lines.

The companies did not ask for this law—they scrapped it. Our files are full of letters, booklets and telegrams received during the last session urging opposition to this law. However, the law was passed. The companies are doing business under it and giving all the law requires of them and a good deal more. For example: We will guarantee to protect you in case the law is declared unconstitutional, and the great state of California cannot do that for her clients, who insure in the state fund.

The insurance companies have done all in their power to make their policies flexible in covering the unusual as well as the general run of the cases. They aim to give the best possible service, through their system of agents on the ground to help and advise with you, through efficient inspectors to assist you in reducing accident hazard, and through expert claim departments to give your injured the best of attention and the promptest of settlements.

And, gentlemen, whether you or I think the law is good, bad or indifferent, fair or unfair, it is Chapter 176, Laws of 1913, of the State of California. The law is the law, and it must be obeyed.
